

I have bought satellite radio, and pay a monthly subscription so that I may have up to the minute weather and local traffic. I find this invaluable around the city (Boston), and do not appreciate having to listen to other stations for 20 minutes to an hour to get to the information I want. I feel that this should be something I am entitled too, as I have bought the equipment, and paid a monthly fee for this. To not allow Satellite radio to give this service, and not offer something comparable is unconsonable.
